Problem

Wireless couldn't stream media from iTunes on my computer to the media streamer on the TV

Solution

iPowerline transmits a signal up to 4 times faster than wireless allowing you to stream movies

Benefits

No cabling running all around house
No breakdown of signal – perfect HD continuous picture

Type of Property

Modern 4-bedroom detached house.

Nature of the Problem

"We bought an Apple TV media streamer and downloaded iTunes on our computer, with the idea of downloading movies onto the computer and watching them on the TV. Wireless just couldn't cope with streaming in HD – the signal continuously flickered and you couldn't watch a movie properly."

Solution Implemented

The iPowerline system was connected to each of the devices, allowing perfect video flow between the devices.

"iPowerline handles HD perfectly – no skips, no bumps, just perfect flow. It's also compatible with Apple products which is great."

One of the other good things about iPowerline is that it's unobtrusive – you forget it's there."
